

Did you get your new IRS Form 1095, Employer-Provided Health Insurance Offer and Coverage, in the mail? Now you can access it online!

This document provides background on a new Internal Revenue Service (IRS) form that was mailed to you at the beginning of February 2016; the form also can be accessed from My Health Benefits after February 10, 2016.

Why am I getting this form?

The Affordable Care Act requires employers to report retiree health coverage to the IRS. If you were enrolled in IRMP or had a SERMA balance (the retiree Health Reimbursement Account) in 2015, you will receive Form 1095. Any dependents enrolled with you in IRMP will also be listed on your Form.

You don't actually need this form in order to file your taxes, but when you do file, you'll have to tell the IRS whether or not you had health insurance for each month of 2015. The Form 1095 shows if you had health insurance. When you get the form, keep it with your other 2015 tax information in case you should need it in the future to help prove you had health insurance.

For more information concerning your specific situation please refer to the IRS website or consult your tax advisor.

You may receive multiple forms if you had health coverage from more than once source

Additional Q&A

What will the IRS do with the information reported on Form 1095?

It will be used to determine whether an individual was eligible for premium tax credits if the individual purchased coverage on the Health Insurance Marketplace and to verify whether individuals are subject to the shared responsibility penalty.
