Ordering NUC Products

Q1: When can I make my last order on the Intel site?

A1: Intel is no longer selling Intel® NUC products. Customers should contact ASUS for ordering details. (ASUS NUC | Contact Sales)

Q2: Can I still reach out to an Intel Authorized Distributor about a NUC purchase?

A2: Customers may check with Intel Authorized Distributors for their needs or contact ASUS (ASUS NUC | Contact Sales) for ordering details

Q3: Is there a deadline for purchases of Intel NUC products from distributors?

A3: No, Intel does not exercise control over distributor inventory or ordering practices. To Intel's knowledge, Customers will be able to purchase Intel NUC Products from Intel Authorized Distributors as normal, as long as distributors have inventory available.

Q4: Can I still buy Intel NUC products and if so for how long?

A4: Intel and ASUS are developing plans for a smooth transition for NUC customers. For details on ASUS' plans including product availability and ordering, please contact ASUS (ASUS NUC | Contact Sales).

Q5: How can I see my previous NUC order information for NUCs purchased through Intel?

A5: Contact Intel for Your Support Solutions

Q6: My order appears to have a Confirmed Goods Issue Date (CGID) later than September 30th, 2023. Will my order ship?

A6: No. Any orders with a CGID beyond September 30th, 2023, were confirmed prior to Intel's announcement of ceasing direct investment in NUC. Any orders with a CGID beyond September 30th, 2023, will be unconfirmed.

Q7: What can customers expect in terms of supply continuity for products that are in production now?

A7: ASUS began taking orders starting September 1st, 2023. Please contact ASUS (ASUS NUC | Contact Sales) for further commentary.

Q8: Will ASUS change the Intel® NUC part #s or ordering code? Can customers or partners refer to Intel SKU numbers while placing orders to ASUS in the future, or will ASUS be sharing new SKUs?– Ask ASUS for response.

A8: NUCs sold after September 1, 2023 will be changed to an ASUS PN, please contact your ASUS account representative for the correct PN.

NUC sold before September 1, 2023 will remain the same Intel SKU #, and ASUS has created a corresponding PN for each NUC model. ASUS has a mapping table to crosscheck the PN information

Please make sure to keep Intel label clean and clear, it contains all the information ASUS needs for service support (Marked in red in the graphic below. It is also helpful to have the MM# label on the original packaging (pretty box).
