2019 ANNUAL ENROLLMENT GUIDE

Understand changes to optimize your health and wellness benefits

Annual Enrollment is November 1–30, 2018

PURPOSE

It's time for you and your family to review your Intel health benefit choices and make your Annual Enrollment decisions for 2019. Intel is committed to providing amazing benefits to our retirees, and to deliver the best value and quality across your medical and vision needs—as U.S. healthcare costs continue to rise. This Guide is intended to help you find healthcare options that best suit your needs, especially as you compare to the individual marketplace or Medicare.

To help guide your decisions, we've created eight sections. Please pay special attention to what's changing in Sections 1 and 2 for the Intel Retiree Medical Plan (IRMP) option for non-Medicare eligible Intel retirees (typically if you are under age 65) and the IRMP options for Medicare eligible Intel retirees (typically if you are 65 and older or disabled).

Starting November 1, 2018, you and your family have access to extra resources at the My Health Benefits website. Please carefully read this Guide and use all the support available to help make informed healthcare choices.

INTRODUCTION

Heading into 2019, U.S. healthcare costs continue to rise* and the market remains unpredictable. Intel is committed to actively manage cost increases to lessen the impact on you and your spouse or domestic partner.

We are helping curb the trend through innovative health plan options and cost containment, such as the retiree High Deductible Health Plan (HDHP) introduced to you last year. With this change, we held Intel Retiree Medical Plan (IRMP) premium costs down in 2019. The non-Medicare option will increase 6% in 2019 versus higher past increases. Finally, the Medicare with Rx plan has also improved, with a far lower increase of 6% in 2019 versus 14% in 2018.

MEDICARE ELIGIBLE RETIREE

Are you eligible for Medicare, typically age 65 and older, or disabled?

If yes, this section is for you.

If you are eligible for Medicare, you can enroll in the IRMP Cigna Indemnity with Rx or the IRMP Cigna Indemnity without Rx. Both IRMP Cigna Indemnity options coordinate with Medicare, meaning neither option covers the cost of benefits normally paid by Medicare.

What Changes in 2019?

- IRMP Cigna Indemnity with Rx (includes prescription drug coverage) – Premiums are increasing 6%.
- VSP Vision Plus monthly premium increase – Premiums are increasing 6%.
- Domestic partners, and their dependent children, are now eligible – Domestic partners are two non-related adults, in a committed relationship, who have resided together for more than a year. SERMA and Catastrophic Rx HRA reimbursement for a domestic partners' eligible expense is typically taxed. To learn more and determine eligibility, visit My Health Benefits, Domestic Partner tile or call 1-877-GoMyBen.
- Opioid prescription protocols for IRMP Cigna Indemnity with Rx – Improved protocols adopted around opioid-based prescription drugs in line with the industry and national trends.

Medicare provides many choices. As a Medicare-eligible retiree, we encourage you to explore all available options. For more information, visit www.medicare.gov or call 800-633-4227.

What Stays the Same?

- IRMP Cigna Indemnity without Rx (excludes prescription drug coverage) – There are no changes this year, and monthly premiums will remain the same. Because this option does not include prescription drug coverage, consider purchasing a Medicare Part D plan to obtain prescription drug benefits and avoid a Medicare premium penalty. Medicare Open Enrollment ends December 7, 2018. See page 11 for details.

While no enrollment or election is necessary, you must be enrolled in Medicare Part D prescription drug coverage to receive reimbursement through the Catastrophic Rx HRA. See page 6 for details.

Resources are also available through the Aon Retiree Health Exchange. Their benefits advisors can help you navigate the many comparable plans, if you'd like to choose one by December 7, 2017.

CATASTROPHIC RX HRA

Capping Your Medicare Part D Out-of-Pocket Costs

Retirees and your eligible dependents enrolled in a Medicare Part D Plan can take advantage of Intel's Catastrophic Rx HRA. The Catastrophic Rx HRA will reimburse you for the 5% co-insurance you pay after you have met your annual true out-of-pocket maximum. Retirees do not need to enroll or elect this benefit, but you (or your eligible dependent for whom you are seeking reimbursement) do need to be enrolled in a Medicare Part D Plan. To take advantage of this benefit, you simply need to call the Intel Health Benefit Center at 877-GoMyBen (466-9236) and select the "Your

All eligible dependents including Domestic Partners must be listed as your dependent on the My Health Benefits website in order for Catastrophic Rx reimbursement to be processed. For more information visit My Health Benefits or call 1-877-GoMyBen.

* Once you hit the out-of-pocket max, you pay a copayment (~5%) for each drug for the remainder of the year. You may submit this copayment to the Catastrophic Rx HRA to get reimbursed by Intel. This caps the annual max you pay for prescriptions at $5,100. (Out-of-pocket varies depending on the Part D plan you have.)

MetLife Dental

Intel partners with MetLife to offer retirees a voluntary plan that offers access to comprehensive dental coverage. You may use SERMA (more details available on page 8) to get reimbursed for eligible dental premiums. If you're currently enrolled in MetLife Dental, your enrollment continues unless you opt out. If you're not enrolled, MetLife will send you a letter explaining how to enroll. For more information, call MetLife at 866-832-5756.

This voluntary dental plan is not an Intel-sponsored benefit and is not an Employee Retirement Income Security Act (ERISA) welfare benefit plan.

SECTION 4

SHELTERED EMPLOYEE RETIREMENT MEDICAL ACCOUNT

The Sheltered Employee Retirement Medical Account (SERMA) is a Health Reimbursement Arrangement (HRA) subject to Internal Revenue Service (IRS) rules.

If eligible, you can use SERMA to pay for all or part of your insurance premiums for yourself and eligible dependents—even if it's for a plan purchased outside of IRMP including through an exchange.

If you're enrolled in IRMP, you can use SERMA to offset your monthly premium for IRMP coverage until you have fully exhausted the account. During 2019 Annual Enrollment, you can elect how much of your IRMP premium you want paid from your SERMA each month, such as 25%, 50%, 75%, or 100%. Your IRMP premium payments will be paid directly from your SERMA. The percentage you elect applies both to you and any enrolled dependent's premiums.[†] If you choose a SERMA contribution other than 100%, you are responsible for paying the remainder of the premium cost.

All eligible dependents including Domestic Partners must be listed as your dependent on the My Health Benefits website in order for a SERMA reimbursement to be processed. For more information visit My Health Benefits or call 1-877-GoMyBen.

Eligible reimbursements include insurance premium payments for:

- Individual health, dental, and vision insurance
- Other employer retiree group plans*
- COBRA

- Medicare
- Medigap
- TRICARE
- Long-term care insurance premiums

Checking Your SERMA Balance

You may check your SERMA balance by calling the Intel Health Benefits Center at 877-GoMyBen (466-9236). Or, visit www.intel.com/go/myben, then click the My Health Benefits website link, log on to UPoint, and select the "Your Spending Account" tab. If you're accessing the UPoint site for the first time, you must create a user ID and password to log on.

Once logged in, you can:

- View your SERMA balance
- Submit claims (you have the option to submit claims online, by fax, or by mail)
- Check the status of your claims
- Learn more about eligible expenses

Retirees May "Opt Out" of SERMA

Non-Medicare retirees with access to SERMA will not qualify to receive federal premium tax credits. If you are considering using federal premium tax credits to reduce the cost of health insurance purchased through the Affordable Care Act (ACA) Health Insurance Marketplace, you should seek advice from a tax advisor. If you are enrolled in Medicare, you are ineligible for federal premium tax credits so the SERMA Opt Out program does not pertain to you.

[†] Reimbursements for a domestic partner and children of a domestic partner are generally treated as taxable income unless your domestic partner is a tax dependent. Intel will provide you with a 1099 for any reimbursements from SERMA for your domestic partner's (or their children's) eligible expenses.

* If you're enrolled in IRMP and your spouse/DP is enrolled in another retiree group health plan, you can use SERMA toward both your IRMP premium and your spouse's/DP's employer's non-Intel retiree insurance premium expense.

If you are not Medicare eligible and you determine that you are eligible for the premium tax credit, you may choose to temporarily “Opt Out” of SERMA in order to qualify. When you “Opt Out,” your SERMA balance is frozen and you will not be able to use SERMA to pay for Intel or non-Intel sponsored healthcare premiums mentioned on the previous page for you or your dependents for 2019. Your “Opt Out” election will carry over from year to year unless you “Opt In” again during the next Annual Enrollment following the same process.

There are online tools that help you identify if your income levels qualify for federal premium tax credits. The Benefits Advisors at the Aon Retiree Health Exchange can guide you through that process, if needed. If you want to learn more now, these sites are helpful: <https://www.healthcare.gov> and <http://kff.org/health-reform/>.

If you have questions about the option to “Opt Out” of your SERMA, please contact the Intel Health Benefits Center by calling 877-GoMyBen (466-9236) and select Your Spending Account option. You must call to “Opt Out” as it cannot be completed online.

SERMA Claim Timing and Deadlines

The SERMA plan year runs January 1–December 31 of each year. You may submit reimbursement for an eligible insurance premium expense incurred during the plan year as long as you are eligible for SERMA and:

- You have not opted out of SERMA for the plan year in which the claim was incurred;
- You file your claim AFTER your health insurance coverage began (i.e., insurance premium for February paid in January cannot be submitted for reimbursement until February 1);
- You file your claim before the run-out period ends May 31 of the following year.

You have until May 31, 2019 to submit for reimbursement for 2018 eligible insurance premiums. The run-out period provides you extra time to submit your reimbursement request. If you do not submit your reimbursement request with complete supporting documentation by May 31, 2018, your request will be denied.

Please review the IRMP and SERMA SPD for a complete description of SERMA eligibility, requirements, and benefits. For a description of domestic partner eligibility that is new in 2019, refer to the My Health Benefits website Domestic Partner tile.

SERMA COMMON QUESTIONS

- 1. When does my SERMA end? What if I get another job?
Your SERMA is terminated when any of the following occur: you no longer have credits; the account has not been used after 20 consecutive years; or you and your eligible dependents die. There is no impact if you obtain a job with another employer.
- 2. Can I be enrolled in IRMP or IRMP Vision only, and still use my SERMA to purchase other eligible insurance for myself or my eligible dependents? Yes. You can enroll in IRMP and also request SERMA reimbursement for other eligible insurance premium reimbursement such as the MetLife Dental Plan.
- 3. Can I be reimbursed from SERMA for individual insurance coverage for my spouse or dependent children? Yes. The cost of eligible insurance premiums is an eligible SERMA expense for your individual insurance, your spouse/ domestic partner,* and your eligible dependent children.
- 4. I am enrolled in my spouse's employer group health plan. Can I be reimbursed from my SERMA account for the insurance premium? No. You may not use SERMA for another company's active employee group health plan.
- 5. Can I use SERMA for coverage through a Health Care Sharing Ministry/Group Share Costs/Discount Program? No. SERMA is a Health Reimbursement Arrangement (an “HRA”) subject to Internal Revenue Service (IRS) rules for reimbursement of “qualified medical expenses.” Expense like those mentioned above are not considered qualified medical expenses by the IRS. See IRS publication 969.
- 6. Can I be reimbursed for a bundled policy, such as health and non-health insurance? If you are enrolled in a policy that provides payments for other than healthcare insurance—such as life insurance or Accidental Death and Dismemberment—the healthcare cost must be separately stated in the insurance contract or statement. If you do not provide a premium break out, your request for SERMA reimbursement will be denied.
- 7. How do I find out more? Go to www.intel.com/go/myben and refer to the IRMP and SERMA SPD in the Plan Information tab. You can also review IRS Publication 969, section on Health Reimbursement Arrangements: <https://www.irs.gov/pub/irs-pdf/p969.pdf>.

For information on domestic partner SERMA reimbursement, go to www.intel.com/go/myben and refer to the domestic partner tile.

* Reimbursements for a domestic partner and children of a domestic partner are generally treated as taxable income unless your domestic partner is a tax dependent. Intel will provide you with a 1099 for any reimbursements from SERMA for your domestic partner's (or their children's) eligible expenses.

SECTIONS

HEALTH SAVINGS ACCOUNTS

When enrolling in a High Deductible Health Plan—or HDHP—it’s important to maximize your dollars and manage your budget by understanding how to use a Health Savings Account—or HSA.* The basic concept of an HSA is that of a savings account used specifically for qualified medical expenses, with preferential tax treatment.

Advantages of Having an HSA:
	Non-Medicare Eligible	Medicare Eligible
Tax deductible contributions	Yes	No
Tax free withdrawals for qualified medical expenses	Yes	Yes

 Qualified medical expenses for you and your eligible dependents include insurance premiums for health insurance coverage under COBRA, copays, co-insurance, deductibles, healthcare coverage while receiving unemployment compensation, Medicare (but not Medigap) premiums, long-term care insurance. See IRS Publication 969 and 502 <https://www.irs.gov/publications/p969/ar02.html>.

HSA and the IRMP Cigna HDHP

When you enroll in the IRMP Cigna HDHP, you’ll be auto-enrolled in a HealthEquity HSA* and will receive a welcome packet.

If you have an existing HealthEquity HSA, Intel will pay the monthly maintenance fee on your behalf while you are enrolled in the IRMP Cigna HDHP. If you don’t have a HealthEquity HSA, or have an HSA with another financial institution, you can open a new HealthEquity account or transfer your HSA to it. Check with your financial institution for details, as you may incur a separate transfer fee.

For details, contact Health Equity Customer Service center toll free at 877-307-0431 or online at <http://healthequity.com>.

See IRS Publication 969 and 502 for details on HSAs <https://www.irs.gov/publications/p969/ar02.html>.

* HSA is not an Intel-sponsored benefit. Eligibility limits apply, and contribution limits are set by the IRS.

HSA and Medicare

If you’re enrolled in Medicare Part A or B, you can no longer contribute pre-tax dollars to your HSA. However, you can withdraw HSA money after you enroll in Medicare to help pay for medical expenses, deductibles, premiums, copayments, and co-insurances. If you use your HSA for qualified medical expenses, distributions are tax-free. Please consult with your tax advisor for more information.

INTEL RETIREE MEDICAL PLAN ELIGIBILITY

Make sure you and your family members are eligible for coverage.

- Ensure that only your eligible dependents are enrolled in Intel Retiree Medical Plan (IRMP). If you are Medicare eligible and your dependent is not, or vice versa, the Medicare eligible person can enroll in one of the IRMP Indemnity options, while the non-Medicare eligible person can enroll in the IRMP Cigna HDHP. For a complete description of dependent eligibility requirements, refer to the IRMP and SERMA SPD. For a copy of the SPD and information on domestic partner, contact the Intel Health Benefits Center at 877-GoMyBen (466-9236), or visit My Health Benefits at www.intel.com/go/myben, click on the My Health Benefits website link,

SECTION 8

CONNECTING WITH INTEL RETIREES

Learn how you can connect with other Intel retirees through the Intel Retiree Organization (IRO).

Sign up today by visiting: <http://intelretiree.com/contact-us/join-iro/>.

Tell me more

The IRO provides members access to an exclusive website (intelretiree.com) where you can get answers to questions about healthcare, benefits, discounts, volunteering, reconnect with former colleagues, or hear about what others are doing. It's inspiring! Plus, the IRO connects you to a team volunteer who can help answer your questions, address issues, or give you additional Intel contacts.

And let's not leave out fun

The IRO sponsors an annual dinner event for members who have retired from one of the main U.S. Intel sites. Intel retirees experience a fun-filled evening of gourmet dining, social connection, door prize giveaways—and an opportunity to hear from Intel executives about news and events.

More about IRO

The IRO was formed in 2001, and membership has grown to more than 4,000 retiree members. Governed by a Board of Directors, there are several committees in the IRO for communications, health and benefits, volunteering, website development, and strategic planning. The organization is managed by retiree volunteers who have helped pioneer the retirement experience for the company.

This Guide is intended to be a Summary of Material Modifications and is a summary of your benefits. For a copy of the current SPD, contact the Intel Health Benefits Center at 877-GoMyBen (466-9236) or online at www.intel.com/go/myben. The SPD will be available with 2019 updates in Q1 2019.
