Changes to Pre-Entry Health Declaration Process for On-Site Workers

Chandler and Ocotillo Sites Remain in Phase 0

Thank you for your continued vigilance in protecting each other to help reduce the spread of coronavirus; we are encouraged by decline of coronavirus cases in the Arizona community over the last several weeks. Intel is continuing to track community virus transmission trends and other factors to determine our site's timeline to transition to Phase 1 of Intel's Return to Workplace plan.

At this time, our Chandler and Ocotillo sites remain in Phase Zero of Intel's phased approach, and only individuals directed by their manager or sponsor to work on-site or for another authorized purpose should be entering the facility. If you are working remotely, please continue to do so.

HEALTH DECLARATION REQUIRED: SCAN YOUR BADGE TO CERTIFY

Scanning your badge to enter the workplace is a certification that you have conducted a mandatory Pre-Entry Health Declaration and determined you may enter.

If you answered "Yes" to any of the health declaration questions, please depart the area.

As a reminder, both Intel and Maricopa County Public Health Department require face coverings to be worn in the workplace.

Entering this facility without approved access may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination for employees. Contingent workers, privileged visitors, and guests may have their access privileges removed. If you are unsure whether you should be entering this facility, contact your manager, Intel sponsor, or employer.

What's Changing

On-site workers should continue to complete their pre-entry health declaration (intel.com/healthcheck) prior to entering the workplace. Starting at some entrances today, and expanding to others soon, you will no longer be required to verbally declare or show mobile survey results confirming your pre-entry health declaration. Instead, by scanning your badge you are certifying your Pre-Entry Health Declaration and have determined you may enter.

Staying Safe On-site

While on-site, please adhere to the protocols we've established to keep you safe. If you observe someone who is not following these guidelines or any other safety procedure, we encourage you to coach your colleagues professionally and respectfully to remind them of our social distancing expectations. Thank you.

We will continue to provide you with additional updates as our plans develop; your health and safety remain our top priority.
